

LA Fitness

Alexandria, VA

In an industry often equated with fad and fashion, LA Fitness has steadily increased its presence by focusing on the one lifelong benefit valued by everyone: Good Health! In 1984 their first gym opened in Covina, CA. Their strong and successful growth stems from their commitment to understanding and meeting the distinct needs of each community they serve. TEI was fortunate to be part of the growth process of LA Fitness for their new gym club located in a new shopping center in Alexandria, Virginia. In May of 2014 Costello Construction, who was awarded the general construction contract to build this new gym club, brought in TEI Construction as the electrical contractor. This new 34,00 square foot, two story building was constructed as an addition to a recently completed shopping center. TEI was responsible for the complete electrical scope which included power distribution, lighting, fire alarm system and raceways for the communication and sound systems. Our previous experience in the construction development of health clubs and fitness centers helped us to achieve our clients requirements and expectations, as we constructed this facility due to the experience we gained from the other gyms that we have completed. Being able to bring our clients vision to life is what we strive for
